With the infected and undead bearing down on your door, how would you face them? If you could choose the ending to your story, what kind of hero will you be? Monty doesn't want the world to end; he likes his life, and the majority of the people within it. He is not, however, going to get a choice in the matter. Mr Classical gives you the story of Montgomery, a proud and independent man that realises perhaps he is neither as proud nor as independent as he first thought, when the citizens of the UK steadily succumb to the zombie virus. Will Monty survive? When he catches a glimpse of what the world will become, will he even want to? Mr Classical is a character from Great Bitten: Outbreak, released by Permuted Press. In a series known collectively as The Deadlands, Warren Fielding will be bringing you the untold tales from the people Warren encounters, no matter how briefly, in his journey through the virus-ridden counties of the UK. Mr Classical also includes a preview of Great Bitten: Outbreak, released by Permuted Press.
