In a world where a strict caste system raises some men to power while predestining others to be forever slaves, Antonio has spent his life chafing under the restrictions he was born to. No Master has been able to control him... His new Master, Cedrick, is a powerful figure, but had never chosen to take a slave for his own... Until Antonio, whose willful ways fascinate as much as they provoke. Will Antonio prove to be too much for even Cedrick? Or has the willful pet finally met his match?
