Dan Richards, an Iraq war vet, is a surveyor for the mining company, looking to open a new silver mine. Scrambling to establish his helicopter charter business in the wilds of Alaska, while trying to stay connected to his teenage daughter, his world soon turns upside down when he rescues a woman and her dog sledding team after an avalanche. Samantha Bettencourt, an environmental engineer, is eager to begin her first project with the university. A spokesperson for an environmentalist group intent on preserving the wilderness, she is on the path to saving the wild, but when Dan walks into her life things start to change. Sparks fly between Dan and Samantha as they find themselves running for their lives--from the good guys as well as the bad guys out to ruin the things they long to protect. Will they be able to escape before it's too late? Will they get a chance at love or will they lose everything. . . including their lives?
