Shaunesy (Call her Shaun for short. The ladies dig that.) builds up a reputation as a ladies' woman at her university. All is well until she sleeps with the dean's daughter and gets scratched off his list. Transferring schools is her only option. Shaun immediately thinks she'll like her new school, meeting an attractive red head her first day and trying to seduce her into bed. But it's Shaun's new roommate that gives her the biggest surprise. Tara is just like her. And she has a home field advantage with the female student body. Is there room for a second lesbian seductress at this school? Upon meeting, will the two bond over their hyper-sexual ways, or will they compete to try to prove who is truly the most alluring? Find out how the story starts in the first Escapade in Shaun and Tara's Sexcapades. Pick sides, love both of them, but don't forget to follow them on their mission. There are more Sexcapades to come.
