Do you believe in urban Legends? Grace English is just like most people. She finds urban legends to be interesting and entertaining, but she wouldn't exactly say that she believes them to be true.. At least she didn't until she moved to Hunteertown. A town that is known for the urban legend based out of their town. Someone or something is trying very hard to make a believer out of her. By the end of this story they may even convince you into believing.
