Married couple, Anne and Drew, is moving to a new town for work. Unbeknownst to them, the house they're moving into is possessed by the spirit of a military doctor. Anne quickly finds herself haunted by the military doctor's ghost. But what started out as fear soon turns to lust as Anne remembers the medical exam she had received from the military doctor from her past life. Anne wants to give the military doctor some closure by having one last night of passion with him. But will her husband, Drew, agree to watching his wife with another man?
