Dangers of a Forgotten Past Awakened in the Deep! When hobgoblin raiders kidnap a caravan full of workers and supplies, the adventurers set off to get them all back. But neither the raiders nor the adventurers know what terrifying horrors await them in the depths of their cavern hideout. Now, the adventurers must risk it all to prevent the minions of an ancient enemy from visiting death and destruction upon the land. Can the heroes rescue the captives from the hobgoblins and deliver them from this ancient foe—or will they all perish, ushering in the rise of a forgotten deity? Rescue from Tyrkaven is the latest adventure module in Jon Brazer Enterprises' Deadly Delves series, and is compatible with the best-selling Pathfinder Roleplaying Game. This adventure is designed to challenge four to five 2nd-level PCs who thirst for heroics... but they may find more than they bargained for in the process! Inside this volume, you'll find: 5 fully-developed new monsters for your Pathfinder campaign A sinister new magic item, the book of dark obedience, that can set your adventurers onto an entirely new campaign A full-color map of the caverns from which the hobgoblins terrorize the locals Enough content to get a group of 2nd-level adventurers well on their way to 3rd level, with ideas to extend the story even further once you're done exploring the caves. Dangers Unknown. Treasures Untold. Adventure Awaits.
