Inspired by a true story; a young girls struggle for survival and finding love during World War Two. YUGOSLAVIA, 1939 Sofia Savich is a young girl who lives an ordinary life until the world she knows begins to erode rapidly. With World War Two at its height, the Nazis invade her homeland with a mighty force, and now Sofia and her family must flee to avoid certain death. Hiding in a forest in the middle of a harsh winter, they find that hunger is as much an enemy as the fascists. Starving and almost freezing to death, they eventually discover an abandoned place where they can take refuge until winter is over. Then one day a young soldier enters Sofia's life in the most unlikely circumstances. He is an attractive, charismatic and enigmatic young man, Adrian turns Sofia's world upside down. She quickly realizes how enticing he is, and she finds herself battling her own demons. Should she listen to her common sense or to her heart? But soon the past comes hunting them again. Will they have enough time to escape or will they succumb to their enemies?
