Hi Louise Shelley from the MWF asked me to contact you. Prof Caroline de Costa is launching her book "Never, ever, again" at the festival. The last time we launched a book at the fesitival the book seller had to be encouraged to have the book available for sale from day 1. I understand that Dymocks will be selling in the general area as well as at the launch. Please confirm. We would expect that you would order approx 50 books of which we would expect 40 sold at the launch. When would you expect to place an order?
